

Sheboygan River Progressive Farmers Membership Form

Sheboygan River Progressive Farmers (SRPF) explore farming strategies that lead to greater farming efficiency, sustain profitability, and lessen the impact on the environment.

Member benefits include networking with a robust and progressive agricultural community, eligibility for SRPF's cost-share programs and numerous learning opportunities, such as meetings and field days, offered throughout the year. Farmers and farm employees are eligible for membership. Agricultural trade associations, agribusinesses and community groups may join as a non-voting associate member. Membership dues help support SRPF programs and are $50 per farm per year if paid by April 1. After April 1, dues will raise to $100 per farm per year.
